KTECH 652

THE COMPLETE AUTOMATIC SAWING SOLUTION FOR TUBES AND PROFILES

KTECH 652 is an automatic double column bandsaw with motorized sawframe rotation, integrated feeder (available with different lengths. 2000mm standard or 3000-6000 mm upon customer's request) and 4 axis controlled by CNC. The machine is a complete cutting solution for bars, tubes and profiles in fully automatic cycle with mitre cutting up to 60° left and right. The user can manage all the main bandsaw features, settings and functions by the 10" touch screen display placed on a mobile panel control

10" touch screen display

The touch screen display gives the user full access to all the machine features, allowing to create up to 99 cutting programs and 30 cutting lines. For every bar, the user can select among semiautomatic cut, automatic cycle (symmetrical and asymmetrical) and edge cuts

Working cycle

The machine has an automatic control of the material dimension with automatic correction of the cutting length; position has always the maximum accuracy because the machine detect the set angle away from the center of the rotation. To detect the first cut point and optimize cutting times, it's also present a mechanical device on the blade.

Fully integrated automatic system

KTECH can be used to create an automatic system by integrate the machine with our customized warehouse for bars, loading and unloading system. Imet also supplies and realize customized system with marking and/or drilling.
